DEADLINE LOOMS FOR VALE LOCAL PLAN RESPONSES

A COMMUNITY group opposed to the building of 1,000 homes in north Abingdon has been holding drop-in sessions for residents ahead of tomorrow's deadline for comments on Vale of White Horse District Council's local plan.

The North Abingdon Local Plan Group met with residents last Wednesday and Saturday to discuss the 1,000 homes proposed for land north of Dunmore Road and Twelve Acre Drive.

Group members explained the north Abingdon proposals on the local plan to residents, and offered help in submitting comments to the council ahead of tomorrow's 4.30pm deadline.

Residents' concerns varied from increased traffic congestion to the loss of green belt land.

Ticia Lever is a member of the group who came up with the idea to hold the drop-in sessions.

She told the Guardian: "One of our main concerns in setting up this group was actually that a lot of residents didn't know about the proposals.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I suggested we hold these sessions because we thought the process of actually submitting any comments on the local plan is really quite complicated.

"So we had two sessions that were really well attended, and it was very informative from our point of view."

The local plan is being worked on by the council to allocate land for the building of more than 20,000 homes across the Vale.

Matthew Barber, leader of the district council, said: "After several rounds of public consultation, it's peoples final chance to comment on the local plan.

"The council shares the public's concerns that infrastructure should be the number one priority in dealing with this huge housing growth.

"We have set out our plans for delivering infrastructure and commit ourselves over the years to come to delivering it."

Carollers' 24 hour marathon

HUNDREDS of singers filled Long Furlong Community Centre with festive spirit last weekend as they took part in a 24-hour carol singing marathon to raise money for charity.

The marathon started at Midday on Saturday, and saw numerous groups sing in the centre overnight until Midday on Sunday.

They raised £900 to split between Blue Skye Thinking, raising money in memory of Skye Hall, and loneliness charity The Archway Foundation.

Jane Robinson, an organiser, said: "We wanted to get the community together to celebrate Christmas."

£101m promise for council homes

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

• Oxford's skyline and (inset) deputy leader of Oxford City Council, Ed Turner, who believes the Council Housing Ambition will "make a real difference"

OXFORD City Council has pledged to spend up to £101million on building new homes over the next four years.

The money is a part of the Council Housing Ambition under draft proposals for the 2015/16 budget.

It also includes an additional £96m in housing investment over 10 years with 485 new homes being built and estates refurbished.

However, the city council wish to increase council tax by 1.5 per cent as part of the plans.

Oxford is facing a housing crisis with the Strategic Housing Market Assessment revealing between 24,000 and 32,000 homes needed to be built by 2031.

Deputy leader of Oxford City Council Ed Turner says the extra funds will help towards the shortfall.

He added: "Oxford has a housing crisis, and with this programme we will make a real difference by providing hundreds of new council homes, as well as major improvements to council properties and the wider environment on our estates.

"We will continue to make efficiency savings on things like office space so that we can safeguard frontline services, protect funding for community organisations, avoid redundancies, and support the vulnerable."

Over 350 of the 885 homes approved for the Barton Park development will be council houses.

The city council say 113 affordable homes will be built during 2014/15, enabling Oxford to have 952 new council houses over the next 10 years.

Under the Council Housing Ambition, a free energy audit for tenants will be conducted.

The draft budget is currently under consultation until January 31, before councillors vote on the proposals at a full council meeting on February 2.

Also included in the draft budget is the continuation of the youth ambition and apprenticeship programmes.

Committee to scrutinise pool decision

OXFORD City Council's scrutiny committee is set to meet at 10am on Tuesday, December 23, to discuss the city executive board's decision to sell Temple Cowley Pools for housing.

It was called in by committee chairman Craig Simmons after the board's meeting on December 10.

The board had voted to sell the Temple Cowley Pools site to housing developer Catalyst, who want to build 47 homes in its place.

They rejected other commercial bids and a proposal from community group Save Temple Cowley Pools, who wanted to redevelop the facility and keep it operating as a leisure centre.

Prior to the decision, the council had been planning to close the Temple Road pool when work was completed on its new facility at Blackbird Leys, due to open early next year.

Councillors on the scrutiny committee will decide whether they support the decision, or to send it back with their comments to the board.

If the committee wishes to refer it back, the board will make a final decision at a special meeting at 3pm on the same day.

Oxford ranked first for research

OXFORD University is the best in the UK for the quality of its research, an assessment by the Research Excellence Framework has said.

Almost half of the university's research was rated in the top category of the assessment, with a further 39 per cent in the second class.

And the university also ranked first in 12 subjects - including in the medical sciences, mathematics and the humanities – for their volume of world-leading research.

Examples of their research include a new malaria treatment that has saved more than a million lives, and creating a database of ancient pottery and gems used by museums and the antiques industry globally.

Professor Andrew Hamilton, vice-chancellor of Oxford University, said: "I welcome our superb results, which clearly reflect our outstanding world-leading research.

"It is pleasing to be ranked in first place, but even more pleasing to see recognition of the fantastic contribution Oxford researchers make to knowledge across a huge range of subjects."

Results from the assessment will be used by the four UK funding bodies to allocate research grants to universities from 2015-16.

Professor Hamilton added: "It is vital that strong and sustained public investment in leading university research is maintained."

Latest arrest made in Operation Bullfinch

A 29-YEAR-OLD man has been arrested as part of Operation Bullfinch, a continued investigation into child exploitation in Oxford.

The man, from High Wycombe, was arrested on December 16 on suspicion of trafficking for the purposes of child sexual exploitation.

It is believed to be in connection to offences committed in Oxford in 2011.

The man has been kept in police custody.

The latest arrest comes after seven men were jailed in May last year for trafficking, rape, and facilitating child prostitution.

Kamar Jamil, Akhtar Dogar, Anjum Dogar, Assad Hussain, Mohammed Karrar, Bassam Karrar and Zeeshan Ahmed were sentenced to a combined 95 years last June.

The offences took place at the Nanford Guest House, in Iffley Road between 2004 and 2012.

Trust 'sorry' after six wrong cancer verdicts

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD University Hospitals NHS Trust has apologised after six women were diagnosed with breast cancer following a review of screenings undertaken by a particular doctor.

The Trust launched an assessment in August to review the cases of 624 women in Oxfordshire.

Results of the assessment published last Thursday ruled of the cases reviewed, 30 women were recalled for a repeat assessment where it was found that six previously cleared of breast cancer did actially have the disease.

Medical director Dr Tony Berendt said: "Our priority has been to ensure that we have picked up all breast abnormalities and investigated them thoroughly.

"We, of course, recognise the impact of this issue for all concerned, and we are extremely sorry that as part of this extensive review six women have received a diagnosis of breast cancer.

"All the women have embarked on their treatment programmes and our medical and nursing teams are offering every support to these women and their families."

Women who are invited for a mammogram screen do not need further tests for three years.

However some women do develop breast cancer in the years in between, and when this happens a review is undertaken to see if the cancer can, with hindsight, be picked up on the previous screening images.

The August review was launched after four women developed cancer between screenings who had been assessed by the same radiologist.

Dr Berendt added: "We recognise the anxiety that this review could cause to women in Oxfordshire who currently undergo three-yearly routine breast mammograms.

"However I would like to reassure women that there are no concerns about the function of the county's breast screening programme.

"It is important for women to attend their routine mammogram appointments when called and they can be confident about the service they receive."

Bus stop flasher

OXFORD: A man in his 50s exposed himself to a woman waiting at the airport bus stop in St Clement's Street on December 12.

At around 1.55am, the man approached the 39-year-old victim who was at the bus stop, exposed himself, and ran off towards June Street.

He is white, was wearing dark coloured trousers, a dark waist-length anorak and tight woollen hat, and had some front teeth missing.

Call 101 with information.

Harvester pub

MILTON: Plans for a Harvester pub at Milton Gate, near Didcot, have been unanimously approved by councillors.

The Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee voted in favour of the plans at a meeting at The Beacon in Wantage on December 17.

Restaurant and pub company Mitchells and Butlers plc wish to build on the plot next to Costa Coffee.

Burglary appeal

SOUTH OXON: Police are appealing for information following burglaries in Didcot, Wallingford and Ewelme that involved a similar technique to force entry.

Burglars used a lock-snapping technique to break in, which sees the lock cylinder broken when force is applied.

The offences took place in Mowbray Road in Didcot between December 1 and 15, at Chiltern Crescent in Wallingford overnight on December 11 and 12, and at Parsons Lane in Ewelme on December 14.

Motorists urged to be safe this Christmas

MOTORISTS are being urged to take note of winter driving advice after three serious incidents in the space of six days.

A two-vehicle collision on the A40 near Burford on December 16 resulted in a fatality, while a crash between a lorry and a broken-down bus a day earlier caused the A34 to close for nearly 12 hours.

There was also a collision with a broken down car on the A40 ring road between Marston and Headington on December 10.

Firefighters are now warning drivers to be aware that heavy rain, snow and ice can cause difficult and dangerous journeys.

Mick Clarke, Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service road safety manager, said: "Reduced visibility and slippery road surfaces make winter driving particularly hazardous.

"I would like to see all drivers adjust to the driving conditions, whether it's frosty and icy, foggy or there's heavy rain, slow down and give yourself time to react.

"For everyone's sake, drive safely this Christmas."

Motorists are also being reminded to have an ice-scraper, torch, first aid kit, hazard warning triangle, blanket, shovel and wellington boots in their cars.

County tops recycling league table

OXFORDSHIRE is the best county in the country for recycling rates, figures published by the Department for Environment, Energy and Rural Affairs has revealed.

More than 59 per cent of household waste is sent for recycling in Oxfordshire - three per cent higher than the next best.

It also has the lowest amount of waste being sent to landfill at just over 420kg per household – 40kg better than the second-placed county.

The figures are based on the county council's recycling performance, although the five district councils in Oxfordshire also performed well.

David Nimmo Smith, the county council's cabinet member for environment, said: "These figures clearly show that our planning and investment in this area is bearing fruit.

"We would like to thank all the residents who take the time to sort their rubbish.

"There is more work to be done and initiatives like the Ardley recycling centre will help us reduce the amount of waste sent to landfill."

Cyclists complete lap of county for charity

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A GROUP of cyclists from Abingdon have raised thousands for charity after completing a 200-mile lap of Oxfordshire.

Twelve riders from the Outdoor Traders Cycling Club Race Team began their journey in Abingdon Market Square at 5am last Saturday, December 14.

They then headed south to Wantage towards Henley, Thame, Banbury, Chipping Norton, Lechlade, and East Hanney, before arriving back in Abingdon 15 hours later.

And the group have so far collected around £1,700 for children's charity Supershoes and a trust fund set up to help a family struggling to pay for treatment for their daughter's Hodgkin's lymphoma.

Adam Whitfield, 27, from Abingdon, was one of the eight cyclists who managed to complete the entire journey.

He said: "It went well, although it was just good to finish it by the end.

• Twelve riders set off from Abingdon for the 200 mile ride (picture by Tim Smith)

"One of the lads, his son about two years ago was diagnosed with cancer behind one of his eyes, and he uses Supershoes who customise trainers for children who are in hospital going through cancer treatment.

"Then there's a close friend whose daughter was diagnosed with Hodgkin's lymphoma, and her family is actually out in New Zealand at the moment.

"So the idea was we'd try and raise some money to help pay for them to come back over Christmas and support her treatment."

The group hopes they will eventually collect between £2,500 and £3,000 to split between the two causes.

And Adam added that they were already planning their next epic ride for charity.

"There's talk about riding for 24 hours, so maybe do something like that. I'm sure there will be something else," he said.

BERINSFIELD: Three teenagers have been arrested and released on bail on suspicion of trying to steal a moped on December 10.

Police received a call from a resident in the early hours of the morning, saying four people wearing balaclavas were in his garden in Lodden Avenue and he believed they were trying to steal a moped.

When disturbed they made off on two of their own mopeds.

Student choir transform Mariah's festive classic

By Jack Johnson

OXFORD'S a cappella students have made a festive return following their successful rendition of Shakira's 'Hips Don't Lie' earlier this year.

Out of the Blue, an all-male a cappella group made up of Oxford and Oxford Brookes University students, became an Internet sensation in July as their Shakira video went viral.

And now they are taking the Internet by storm again with their cover of Mariah Carey's 'All I Want For Christmas Is You'.

The single has already raised £1,000 for Oxford-based hospice charity Helen & Douglas House and the music video has attracted almost 1.2million views on YouTube.

Charlie Hicks, 19, who studies neuroscience at Queen's College, is a member of the 13-strong group.

He said: "We looked ahead after the Shakira video and decided Christmas would be another good opportunity to make another charity video and single.

"It was pretty obvious that Mariah's 'All I Want For Christmas Is You' would be a popular choice and likely to go viral and make as much money as we could for charity."

The Shakira video raised £10,000 for Helen & Douglas House and has over five million views on YouTube, thanks to the Colombian singer spreading the word on social media.

The latest cover has been filmed at iconic university buildings such as the Bodleian Library and Radcliffe Camera and features the group getting into the festive spirit.

Charlie said he had not expected the Christmas charity single to be as popular as the Shakira rendition and hopes the group can raise at least £2,000.

He added: "I actually didn't know how it would take off.

"The success of the Shakira video was largely down to the fact that she tweeted it and put it on her Facebook page and I thought we would struggle to replicate that success.

"I am very thankful and a little bit surprised it is a success."

Man faces jail on hare hunting offences near Wootton

A MAN could face jail next year after pleading guilty to hunting hares in a field near Wootton.

Gary Malpass, 35, of Overmead, Abingdon, pleaded guilty to hunting a wild mammal with dogs on December 12 at Oxford Magistrates' Court and will be sentenced next year.

John Norman Woods, 31, of Boxhill Road, Abingdon, and Tobias Pope, 34, of Sunningwell Road, Sunningwell, also pleaded guilty to the incident on November 28 and have both been fined £500.

The men were seen by a police helicopter in fields near Wootton with a high-powered lamp and dogs at 1.20am.

Detective Inspector Paul Powell said: "We're obviously very pleased with this result, and with the fact they all pleaded guilty to the charges.

"Hare coursing and hunting act offences are a priority for the South and Vale Local Policing Area."

He added: "I commend the work of the officers involved in this case, particularly because their community impact statements were used in court."

Racial abuse

BICESTER: British Transport Police (BTP) are appealing for information after a man boarded a train at Bicester North and racially threatened a man and woman.

The couple, who are Middle Eastern, boarded the train at Bicester before a group of men followed shortly before it left.

One of the men told the pair to move up to make space, but they were unable to do so as the train was crowded.

The man then made a number of racially and religiously offensive threats and abuse.

He is described as white, in his 30s, of medium build with a bald or shaven head, blue eyes and a gap between his front teeth, and was wearing a green jacket.

Anyone with information is asked to call BTP on 0800 405040.

Work finished

WITNEY: Roadworks on the A415 Ducklington Lane in Witney were completed last week.

The road fully reopened eight months after work started.

As part of a £2.5million project, the approaches on all four parts of the junction were widened, traffic lights upgraded and new crossings installed.

Signal timings will also be checked over the next few weeks to help improve the traffic flow.

Blow for protestors against Abingdon crossing move

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE relocation of an Abingdon pedestrian crossing that town residents and councillors had been fighting against for over a year was approved by Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet last week.

Plans to move the Marcham Road crossing away from the double mini roundabout were given the go ahead at the cabinet's meeting on December 16.

It comes almost 18 months after the government's planning inspector ruled that moving the crossing was a necessary condition for developers who wanted to build 159 homes on Drayton Road, in an effort to ease traffic congestion.

But concerns were raised in a public consultation that moving the crossing would be dangerous for pedestrians.

• The Marcham Road crossing in its current location

Campaigners warned people are not likely to walk the extra distance to use it.

Neil Fawcett, county councillor for Abingdon South, said: "I'm extremely disappointed.

"I think the cabinet put too much trust in pre-advice from the officers that they just had to accept what the planning inspector had suggested.

"The one thing that is still on the table is that Vale of White Horse District Council has said they were considering a judicial review, so I will be writing to [council leader] Matthew Barber to ask him to initiate that review."

Council officers had recommended the cabinet approve the crossing's relocation as it was deemed there were no legal grounds to challenging the planning inspector's decision.

County council leader and cabinet chairman Ian Hudspeth said: "Based on the evidence put before us, we felt that we agreed with the officer recommendation.

"Obviously we looked at the report and gave consideration to the speakers coming forward, and we took all that advice and evidence into consideration before making the decision."

Christmas comes early for 27 families

• Kelly Shaw with fellow Sovereign staff and the hampers

MORE than two dozen Oxfordshire households have been given an early Christmas treat after they were randomly selected to get a food hamper or toy delivery by a housing association.

Sovereign Housing Association's East Hanney office delivered hampers to 15 elderly residents and toys to 12 families across the county after staff raised more than £1,700.

Hampers were filled with sweet and savoury foods such as meats, biscuits and jams, while toys included Lego, train sets, books and board games.

Kelly Shaw, Sovereign's property services advisor, came up with the idea.

She said: "We really wanted to do something different for our residents this Christmas and give a little back.

"The hampers were filled entirely by donations, and we were delighted with the response from our staff and contractors.

"With the help of Age UK in Abingdon and South Abingdon Children Centre, we selected the 27 residents at random, and hope they enjoy them and have a very merry Christmas."

Oxfordshire signs up to tri-county alliance

THREE county councils, including Oxfordshire, have teamed up to form a 'combined authority' alliance that will develop their local economies.

Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth signed the agreement with his counterparts from Northamptonshire and Buckinghamshire at the Silverstone race track on December 16.

They signed an offer to central government to ask for support in developing plans for employment, roads, and for enhanced powers over public transport.

The alliance is also asking for greater powers at local government level to suit the new agreement.

Cllr Hudspeth said: "We are expecting more than 80,000 new jobs to be created in Oxfordshire by 2031, many of them resulting from the world-class science and technology know how in the country.

"This will be a major boost to our local economy but the economic benefits are not confined to local authority borders so it is vitally important that we work together with our neighbours.

"By joining up with Buckinghamshire and Northamptonshire, I believe we can maximise the benefits to the regional economy by improving transport links and strategic planning so we can connect people, jobs and homes."

This is the first tri-county alliance of its type, and is hoped to build on the £45billion economic output that the area generates.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

County Councils Network chairman David Hodge added: "This new initiative shows counties' readiness to come together and create new partnerships to accelerate local economic growth.

"It's this sort of strategic collaboration that will allow counties to continue their vital work creating the right conditions for prosperity.

"Only by empowering counties and their partners through devolved powers and budgets in areas such as transport, infrastructure and skills can we ensure that counties can continue to support local businesses in driving the UK's recovery."

The alliance is expected to meet with government officials in the coming months to discuss the offer in greater detail.

OXFORD: The East Oxford Community Association is asking for donations of food ahead of them serving lunch on Christmas Day for those who would otherwise spend the festive period alone.

A collection box for non-perishable food, as well as gifts for children and their parents, has been set up in East Oxford Community Centre.

Tesco targeted

ABINGDON: Burglars broke into the Tesco Extra on Marcham Road on December 14 and stole cash from the self-service checkouts.

They forced open a door shortly before 2.20am and were all wearing dark clothing, had their faces covered and were carrying crowbars.

The offenders are believed to have driven off in a silver or grey Audi RS4.

Call 101 with information.

Gift request

ABINGDON: The Abingdon Foyer is appealing for gift card donations to help bring some festive cheer to homeless and vulnerable young people this Christmas.

The Foyer, in The Square, houses those aged 16 to 25 who have nowhere else to go, so staff are asking for £5 gift cards that their residents can spend on clothing, food, or a treat.

Donations can be left at the Foyer until December 24. Call 01235 856930 for details.

Culham Science Centre grows

CULHAM Science Centre near Abingdon is rapidly becoming a hub for growing biotechnology firms with three - GeneFirst, Neuro-Bio and SENSE Biodetection - having recently moved there, leasing 5,500sqft of laboratory and office space between them.

It follows centre management taking a strategic decision to make its laboratory space commercially viable for smaller biotech firms in the face of a shortage of available space in Oxfordshire.

Incorporated last year, SENSE Biodetection already employs five people, and it plans to expand as research and development then progresses.

By Kelly Lea
news@oxfordshireguardian.co.uk

Founder Dr Harry Lamble, said: "I was delighted to discover that Culham has opened up its labs to smaller organisations and start-ups who are in need of an incubator location to progress.

"We are at a critical stage of our business and need the support and flexibility to be able to grow when the timing is right."

Neuro-Bio, founded by Baroness Professor Susan Greenfield, has moved to Culham due to the amount of lab space available at a competitive rate. The organisation is working on developing a new drug for Alzheimer's Disease and other neurodegenerative conditions.

Senior biochemist Dr Gwenael Pottiez said: "Our drugs will soon be going through pre-clinical trials and we have plans to recruit next year, so it was vital for us to find a more permanent base."

GeneFirst Ltd is a molecular diagnostics company working predominately in the fields of infectious disease, cancer diagnostics and personalised medicine.

Co-founder and Chief Scientific Officer, Guoliang Fu, has plans to increase headcount in the next few years.

The centre is part of Science Vale Oxfordshire. For more details, visit culham.org.uk.

Learning Spanish at lunch

MORE than 20 staff from a variety of tenant businesses at Howbery Business Park have been making valuable use of their lunch hours, by taking a 10-week Spanish course.

Subsidised by Howbery Business Park Sports and Social Association, the Level 1 Spanish lessons, delivered by Oxfordshire company Languages at Lunch have proved so popular that park lettings and marketing manager, Angela Andrews, is introducing French next year in addition to Level 2 Spanish.

Languages At Lunch was founded eight years ago by Jo Saunders (pictured with some of the Howbery students), who now runs foreign language courses in London, Reading, Berkshire, Bristol, Birmingham and Cardiff.

Rob Wright, senior developer and Spanish student from major park occupier Group GTI, said: "I've been wanting to learn Spanish for years, but was discouraged by the cost and hassle of night classes. Learning at lunch is the perfect solution."

Big business plans clinch awards at Spark Vale

THE Spark Vale Best New Business Idea and Best Business Growth competition came to a dramatic close as seven finalists went head-to-head in a pitching showdown to win over the Vale's very own dragons in front of an audience of 80 people.

A home diagnostic product for obstructive sleep apnoea, described by Spark judges as having 'explosive potential,' won Best New Business Idea for Megan Morys, 31, from Kennington, a co-founder of SmartCare.

Best Business Growth Idea was won by Babybird Blankets, founded by 31 year-old mother of two Rachel Bird, from Grove, who creates bespoke handmade and manufactured blankets for babies, toddlers and older children.

SmartCare and Babybird Blankets are now granted access to a prize pot worth more than £60,000, including free office space from Harwell Innovation Centre and a host of support services provided by local businesses.

Megan said: "The judges clearly saw the huge market potential of our technology and have given us this great opportunity to accelerate the business.

"The support offered throughout the competition has been superb and we're looking forward to working with the partners in 2015, as well as raising the £150,000 investment required to launch the business."

Rachel said: "I'm really overwhelmed. This is going to be amazing for my business and a lot easier to grow from here.

"I don't know a lot about marketing so the competition prize will really benefit me."

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Advertorial

"WHICH" report April 2014.

Independent hearing aid providers come out on top

ACCORDING to a "WHICH" report carried out in March and April 2014 Independent hearing aid providers were rated as the most satisfactory compared to Boots, Amplifon, Specsavers and Hidden Hearing.

An independent hearing aid audiologist is able to prescribe hearing aids from all manufacturers and find the exact system to suit your needs and budget. However some of the high street hearing aid retailers are tied to specific manufacturers therefore giving a limited choice.

Buying a hearing aid system is not just about the cost of the aid itself, you are purchasing an on-going package and so other things to consider are:-

1. Who is going to fit my hearing aids, and will I subsequently see the same person?
2. What is the level of ongoing aftercare and support after your hearing aids have been fitted?
3. Is the aftercare and support included in the price of the hearing aid system?
4. What is the length of the manufacturers warranty?
5. Can you trial the hearing system?
6. What are the ongoing costs i.e. batteries and wax guards?

Beware, some companies offer free guides on hearing aids and follow these up with home visits. They are often lead generation companies who operate in a sales based way. They may sell your information on to other large hearing aid providers who will target you with mail and telephone calls to entice you to buy their hearing aid systems. The same can also be said for websites which appear to offer comparatively low priced hearing aids.

If you are thinking of purchasing a hearing system it is important to compare the cost with a like for like hearing aid system and what aftercare is included. If the aftercare is not included in the cost of the system then how much will it typically cost you over the life of your hearing aids.

It can take time to fit and adjust a hearing system correctly so that it is working to maximise your hearing. Without a professional, attentive fitting, and programming by an experienced audiologist and a reliable aftercare service in place it is possible that your hearing aids will end up in a drawer somewhere because they failed to give you the benefits that you expected.

The difference between a good and a bad hearing aid solution is not usually the aid itself, since most aids are made by a handful of manufacturers. It's more to do with the professional fit and service given by the provider. Hearing aids are only as good as the expertise of the dispensing audiologist.

Keith Donaghy is an independent hearing aid audiologist with over 27 years experience of prescribing hearing aid systems in the Oxfordshire area. A consultation with him is FREE and he will happily help and advise you which, if necessary, hearing system will suit your lifestyle and budget the best. All with no obligation, what have you got to lose?

Book a free hearing consultation today either in Witney, Buckingham, Banbury or in the comfort of your own home.

Mum's the word for pantomime, Chippy-style

PANTOMIME season is well and truly underway as 'Mother Goose' hits the stage of The Theatre in Chipping Norton until January 11.

Mother Goose is the kindest, loveliest and friendliest lady in all the land.

But when she struggles to pay her rent, evil Baron Von Rumpensmakka threatens to take her precious goose in payment.

JJ Henry, who stars as the lead role of Mother Goose, said: "This is my second time performing here and I love it."

"The theatre is small and intimate, so we feel that we really get to know our audiences.

"Last year I played Dame Trot in 'Jack and the Giant', which I loved. I've had withdrawal symptoms from not wearing heels!"

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

JJ told the Guardian: "This is a lovely theatre in the heart of the Cotswolds with an incredible cast, and an amazing crew.

"Being part of this production is a win-win situation for me."

The pantomime takes the audience on an Arctic adventure through the Scandinavian snows, crammed full of trolls, snowmen, woolly jumpers and even the occasional moose.

The production also teaches the audience the importance about inner beauty.

"The show is good for both parents and children as there is a brand new script, fabulously catchy new songs, quality acting and great designs," 28-year-old JJ explained.

"This will also be a great opportunity for kids to get away from the computer or television so that they can engage with other people."

The actor, and occasional magician, added: "We tend to have a chat about how the show went and talk about any funny audience moments."

Tickets cost from £12 to £26 for the show at The Theatre in Chipping Norton's Spring Street.

Local lad makes his mark

OXFORDSHIRE musician Andy Robbins will be performing at The Crown Inn Pub in South Moreton to see in 2015 on New Year's Eve.

The acoustic, folk and rock artist from Harwell village travels all over the country performing in pubs, clubs and theatres whilst also working as a member of a rail breakdown recovery team.

Andy told the Guardian: "I played at The Crown back in February and the day after I played there, my bookings agent called and told me I was wanted there again on New Year's Eve.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I was really happy with that as I enjoyed the previous occasion and I thought the locals were great."

The 20-year-old's love of music was sparked as a boy when his dad would blast out songs off the radio when cooking in the kitchen.

Then after being given his first guitar in his early teens, he started to listen to Oasis, The Beatles, The Kinks, Bob Dylan and Jimi Hendrix who he cites as his main inspirations.

Andy's debut album 'Lost In A Moment', was released last year, with his second album, 'Proceed with Caution', due to be released in the next few weeks.

"I do lots of gigs because I like it. That's the most important thing in my opinion; I want to get my music heard wherever I possibly can," he explained.

"I continually pester promoters, pub landlords and landladies to give me a go and that's how it started and I feel like it's paid off."

The musician, who signed for Coffee Jingle Records in September, has had a busy and successful year to look back on this New Year's Eve.

"2014 has been a massive year for me as I have played all over the country, signed to a record label and I'm about to release my second album," he added.

"I'm just going to keep working hard by writing songs that I believe are good enough to play in front of people and see what happens, so hopefully 2015 will be just as great."

The gig is free and starts at 9pm. Call 01235 759289 for details.

Rudy the Reindeer

YOU could probably reel off Rudolph, Vixen, Comet and Prancer as some of Santa's reindeer. But have you ever heard of Rudy?

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A visit to The Mill Arts Centre in Banbury this month to see The Ballad of Rudy would enlighten you.

The children's animal-themed musical performance will give theatre-goers the chance to meet Rudy the reindeer, who, like most of the others, attends reindeer school.

The show, which started on December 10, will run at the Spiceball Park Road centre until New Year's Eve.

After Rudy realises he is different to all his reindeer friends, he embarks on a musical adventure with a jazz penguin who teaches him that being different is not necessarily a bad thing.

Stewart McCheyne, who plays the lead role, is excited to perform at the Spiceball Park venue.

"I wanted to join the production because it sounded like great fun with a lovely story, " Stewart told the Guardian.

"This is a fun and energetic story which is full of music and comedy.

"Also, I have never been in children's theatre before, so I was extremely happy to find out they wanted me to play the lead role."

The stage actor has had a glittering theatre career starring in Shakespeare plays 'Hamlet' and 'Macbeth'.

The 25-year-old also played Elvis the Drummer in critically acclaimed West End hit, 'Save the Last Dance for Me', directed by Bill Kenwright.

"From songs to animal noises (with a couple of classic audience jokes flung in), there will be plenty of fun moments where the audience can join in," Stewart explained.

"This is also my first time at The Mill Arts Centre so I am looking forward to it."

The production is suitable for anyone over the age of three and tickets cost from £10 to £26.

THE BALLAD OF RUDY
"An original show for children made especially for ages 3 and up. In this story Rudy doesn't have a red nose; rather it's his talent for new and exciting music that sets him apart from all the other Reindeer. Together with a magical Jazz Penguin he goes on an adventure that teaches him that life isn't about following the herd. Funny, warm and with a big heart, this show features live music, original songs and lots of imagination that is guaranteed to have children aged 3 and up mesmerised from start to finish. Sing the blues with a Polar Bear, jam with the Puffins and beat--box with an Arctic Fox.

TOO MUCH, TOO YOUNG
"Isn't it daft that we ask teenagers to make really big decisions about their lives? Jack Bennett had to and it's done him no good whatsoever. He was going to be a world-renowned musician, but one wrong turn and look at him… a two-bit actor with an identity crisis. So he's decided to ask some pretty big questions; what's learning for? Why all the rush? And if all of the politicians and education experts are so smart, how come they never agree on the best way to do things? Jack will tickle your grey matter, probe your beliefs and fill your belly with laughs."

A GIRL WITH A BOOK
"It's October 2012. Gunmen stop a bus in Pakistan and shoot three girls for wanting to go to school. How can a writer respond? Can a Guardian reader really be prejudiced? Knowing nothing about the situation, able to offer little more than outrage this writer was forced to come out from behind his desk and go into the community searching for answers to help him tell the story of a brave young woman's fight for girls' education. When his research uncovers attitudes at odds with his liberal convictions he also has to deal with what he learns about himself."

SAM BAILEY
Sam Bailey stole the hearts of a nation on X Factor and since winning her feet have barely touched the ground. Having wowed fans up and down the country headlining the X Factor Tour earlier this year Sam is set to embark on her very own tour throughout January and February 2015.
The former prison officer has experienced dreams becoming reality; including an incredible No. 1 with her single Skyscraper, supporting Beyonce on tour, performing with her idol Michael Bolton at the National Television Awards and now her own headline tour.
'I've been performing since I was 15 but I never got to where I wanted to be. Then real life, needing to pay bills, marriage and children happened and you just put everything on hold. X Factor gave a woman like me a chance. It gave me my confidence back, it gave me music back, and this is for all those people out there who believed in me!'

Christmas is finally here!

With the decorations all up, the presents under the tree and with all the food sorted for the big day, you can finally relax over the festive period and enjoy whatever shenanigans you've got in store.

However, when Christmas passes, 2015 will literally just be around the corner. So the last thing you want is to start the year on a whimper, when you should really be starting off with a bang.

This is the time of year when people start to think about what resolutions they want to make for the better when the New Year finally arrives.

These changes can literally be anything.

Exercise more, spend less time on the computer, read more books and so on.

But maybe, one of your New Year resolutions this year could be changing something around the house or garden – something you may not have had a chance to do recently.

Maybe it's time to completely spice up the garden with some brand new furniture, as you might think the garden could do with some TLC.

You've noticed that the garage is completely full of clutter and you need the space for your car, so maybe it's time to find some extra storage space for your belongings.

Whatever you decide needs doing, there are plenty of companies who can help out with your DIY ambitions.

Oakcraft Traditional Oak Buildings

OAKCRAFT at Holmsley Mill are experts at creating traditional oak frame buildings.

We specialise in modular and bespoke designed oak framed structures ranging, from simple garaging and garden rooms to complex bespoke projects. We also design, craft and assemble oak frame buildings nationally and internationally. Along with our own oak designs, we have patented their own jointing system, which is not only stronger than traditional jointing techniques, but offers space saving advantages when designing upper-floored buildings.

One thing about Oakcraft is that we are very happy to assist with your project from conception to completion. We will offer a planning application service and design facilities in the comfort of your own home or at our Principal Office.

When agreeing to use Oakcraft, there will be a number of procedures to follow.

• Always arrange an informal meeting with the planners to expose any potential problems, prior to submission.

• Traditional Oak framed buildings are often welcomed as planners understand that you are taking care and thought over your project.

• Green Oak framing is a specialist form of construction. Ensure that you employ a reputable company with a proven track record.

• As always when comparing quotations from companies, ask for the specification. Check sectional sizes of structural timbers and the specification of any doors and windows.

• Ensure your structural calculations are prepared to the new wind code BS 6399. This takes into account the altitude of your building as well as the locality. Required sectional sizes can vary greatly within the same village.

Holmsley Mill is located near Burley in the heart of The New Forest. This is where the frame is crafted.

Come and visit us at Holmsley Mill, Lyndhurst Road, Holmsley, Burley, Hampshire, BH24 4HY.

Alternatively, you can visit our website www.oakcraft.co.uk or ring us on 01425 402 507 for any enquiries.

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas!

One thing that we all look forward to on Christmas Day is the well-anticipated Christmas dinner.

Whether you prefer chicken, turkey, goose, duck or a nut roast, there is nothing better than seeing the festive food on your plate.

However, even though you might know what you would like to have for Christmas dinner, where are you going to have it?

Do you go out for a traditional Christmas roast at your local pub? Do you go to the in-laws for the festive feast? Do you splash out for the family and go to a very established restaurant?

There are so many great venues to enjoy your Christmas Day meal, but you might not be completely certain where to go.

We want every one of you to enjoy Christmas this year by having the food that is right for your plans and preparations.

At Christmas, you want to spend quality time with the ones that you love and cherish the most.

All smiles for Ford Transit

THE all-new Ford Transit Courier topped this year's What Van? Awards winning 2015's Van of the Year.

By James Richings

Ford continued on its winning streak at the December 16 awards in Essex with the Transit Courier picking up Small Van of the Year, the Transit Connect topping the Light Van category, with the new Ranger collecting Pick-up of the Year.

The Ford Fiesta Van was highly commended in its category, with the Transit Custom likewise in the Medium Van category.

What Van? editor Paul Barker said: "Ford's revolution of its light commercial line-up has seen it offer the most comprehensive range of high-quality vehicles in the marketplace, in terms of visual appeal, driver appeal, innovation, technology and efficiency.

"This massive investment has culminated with our Van of the Year Transit Courier offering.

"This is a massive step forward in the small van segment, succeeding our only ever twice-Van of the Year winner, the Transit Custom.

"The excellent new Transit Connect is also a worthy winner of the Light Van category."

Ford's first small Transit Van is styled to deliver fuel efficiency in both its diesel and petrol engine ranges.

The new Ford Transit Courier also gives 10 per cent more load volume than its direct competitors with 2.3m³ (SAE) behind the bulkhead.

It also has a longer load length at floor level, and greater access width through the sliding side doors.

The Ford commercial vehicle range will be available from a designated commercial dealer network called Transit Centres.

About 100 are to be rolled out across the country next year.

Director of Transit Centres, Ford of Britain, Terry Rayner, said: "I am delighted to receive the What Van? Van of the Year award for the Transit Courier – a Ford first in the small van segment."

He continued: "2015 will be the first full year that the entire four-van Transit range will be available.

"It will coincide with the launch of Ford's specialist commercial vehicle dealerships and service centres.

"Transit Centres will be rolled out in over 100 locations across the UK."

Making the change from rigger to rugger

FEW Aviva Premiership rugby players have begun their professional careers like London Welsh flanker Carl Kirwan.

The 23-year-old spent a year working as an offshore scaffolder in the North Sea before getting his break at IPA Championship side Rotherham Titans in 2011.

From there Kirwan joined London Welsh in the summer of 2013 and was an integral part of the Exiles' return to the top-flight of English rugby last season.

The former Yorkshire U20s forward said working on the oil rigs was simply a way of making a living.

"It was tough," he said.

"But it was just picking up a pay cheque and it just had to be done at the time.

"I needed work and my father got me a job on the rigs.

"I went off there and just tried to keep fit and the break eventually came."

Kirwan made an instant impact at Welsh and was named supporters club player of the year last season but an ankle ligament injury in pre-season training led to months of waiting for his Premiership debut.

He returned to action against Northampton Saints on November 30, realising a life-long ambition of playing at the top-level of rugby.

"It was a frustrating time at the start of the season," he said, "and to watch the boys get a few bad results, I think most people will say I was not the person to be around in the stand.

"I was not in the best mood half the time."

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to press, the Exiles were still without a win this season after nine rounds of the Aviva Premiership.

They were also rooted to the bottom of the league table.

However, Kirwan is confident a win is just around the corner and is looking forward to Boxing Day's clash against London Irish at Reading's Madejski Stadium.

"That is a huge game for us with them being just above us in the league," he added.

"It could just give us a slight confidence boost and then we can take that into the New Year; that would be perfect."

Boss Merritt backs Yussuf to maintain scoring form

OXFORD City striker Adi Yussuf will be hoping to carry on his recent goalscoring form over Christmas and New Year.

The 22-year-old had scored seven goals in his last four games as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to press.

And with City facing Leamington on Boxing Day and New Year's Day, as well as Chorley on January 4, manager Justin Merritt hopes Yussuf can continue his prolific run.

"Adi is working hard, he's training hard, and is our top goalscorer," added Merritt.

"The boys are providing him with the ammunition and he is getting three or four chances a game.

"Now we have to got to carry that form into the league."

As the Guardian went to print, City were eighth in the Vanarama Conference North .

They were also on a four-match winning run in all competitions.

Merritt's side also have an FA Trophy second round tie at home to Conference side Woking to look forward to in the New Year.

City welcome the Cardinals, who currently occupy a play-off place in the Conference, to Marsh Lane on January 10.

Elder positive ahead of London Irish clash

FULL-BACK Chris Elder says he believes results will turn in London Welsh's favour.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, the Exiles were still winless this season and bottom of the Aviva Premiership with just one point.

However, Elder, who recently featured in the European Rugby Challenge Cup defeats against Edinburgh is optimistic of a change in form,

"The Leicester and Northampton games and the European matches were a step forward for us," said the 22-year-old.

"We have come away frustrated because we know we could have done better.

"We're quite pleased with what we are doing, it is just that final pass or knocking on a ball that is costing us.

"There are definitely bits that we are pleased with but it is trying to convert that into points."

Welsh face local rivals London Irish at Reading's Madejski Stadium on Boxing Day.

Exiles want fair share of Premiership funding

LONDON Welsh are in discussions over fairer funding rules for newly promoted clubs to the Aviva Premiership.

The news comes after Gareth Thomas, MP for Harrow West, tabled an early-day motion in the House of Commons on September 29 calling for an investigation into Premiership Rugby being run like a 'cartel'.

London Welsh, who were promoted from the Championship in June, said they were unable to disclose the amount of funding they received from Premiership Rugby Limited (PRL), the body that represents top-flight clubs.

However, The Telegraph reported on October 3 that the Exiles received only 30 per cent of the funding received by established Premiership clubs.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, Welsh were bottom of the Premiership.

Welsh issued a statement on December 17 saying the club was in discussion with Premiership and Championship clubs with shareholdings in the PRL, as well as the Rugby Football Union (RFU) with regard to central funding arrangements.

The statement continued: "Dialogue is ongoing, which we are hopeful will result in a fair and more equitable approach to the present funding arrangements, and will likewise address the issues regarding promotion and relegation between the Premiership and Championship.

"This should result, we hope, in a more level playing field upon which a stronger and enduring successful club environment can be established at the top levels in England."

It added: "As a Club, we are convinced not only of the legal strengths of our case for fair and equal funding, but also of the moral and ethical arguments that underpin this.

"We sincerely hope and trust that our discussions over the coming days and weeks remain meaningful and constructive, and will result in a positive conclusion not only for London Welsh but for club rugby generally at the top levels in this country."

All 12 Premiership clubs automatically receive B shares but they must be in the top-flight for at least two years to be able to buy the more lucrative P shares.

London Welsh currently only hold B shares.

A Premiership Rugby spokesman said: "Each club promoted to Aviva Premiership Rugby has the ability to become a full shareholder over time and also benefit from the parachute payment if relegated."

Didcot ready for festive fixtures

JOINT manager Ian Concannon says the Christmas and New Year period will be vital for Didcot Town if they are to continue to challenge for promotion from Division One South & West.

The Railwaymen face Fleet Town on December 27, before welcoming North Leigh to Loop Meadow on New Year's Day and hosting Sholing on January 3.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, Didcot were fourth in the league table, eight points behind leaders Merthyr Town.

And Concannon is fully aware of how crucial the next few weeks could prove to be.

He said: "December and January are two very important months for us.

"It will probably determine where we are going to be at the end of the season."

He continued: "It's important for players, especially over the Christmas period, to look after themselves.

"We have got to be ready and switched on whoever we are playing, home or away."

Ackling aware of key period

GARY Ackling believes the next few weeks are an important period for his Abingdon United side if they are to climb up the Hellenic Premier Division table.

Abingdon were 17th in the table as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print and 13 points off the top half.

United welcome Milton United to the Northcourt on December 27 before making the short trip to Oxford City Nomads on January 3.

"It is an important period for us," said Ackling.

"We need to get points out of these games if we want to start climbing the table.

"It is the first time for a while that I have not got a Boxing Day fixture so the spacing is ok for us.

"We have been involved in midweek games ever since I took over and it is nice to get that break and players can recover from injuries a little bit better."

Ackling was appointed manager at the end of October and says he is reasonably happy with his squad despite availability restricting his selection choices.

He added: "Our biggest problem is getting the same eleven out on the pitch every week, with unavailability, injuries and suspensions."

Sean grabs podium on endurance debut

OXFORDSHIRE racer Sean Walkinshaw enjoyed a successful endurance racing debut after he finished third in class during the Gulf 12 Hours in Abu Dhabi.

The 21-year-old from Chipping Norton took the Pro-Am class podium with team-mates Jordan Grogor and Mohammed Jawa for Dragon Racing, driving the Ferrari 458 Italia, on December 13.

With the race split into two six-hour events, the trio came home fourth in the daylight segment.

And in the nighttime race under the Yas Marina circuit floodlights, they finished fourth again but were elevated a position following a post-race penalty for one of their competitors.

"It's been amazing," said Walkinshaw. "Everyone at Dragon Racing did a great job and Mohammed and Jordan did really well.

"It's so nice to get on the podium in my first ever endurance race, and hopefully the performance we delivered will help to open up a few more options for us for next year."

Walkinshaw is currently bidding to secure a place on either the Blancpain Endurance Series grid, or in the Blancpain Sprint Series, for 2015.

Quins face Chard

RUGBY: Oxford Harlequins begin the calendar year with a visit to Somerset to face Chard on January 3.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, Quins were eighth in National League 3 South West, while Chard were winless and rooted to the bottom.

Meanwhile, South West 1 East side Grove will kickstart 2015 with a home match against Trowbridge.

And Henley Hawks open 2015 against south Oxfordshire rivals Chinnor in National League 2 South.

Romain beaten

MOTORSPORT: Lotus F1 driver Romain Grosjean failed to retain his Race of Champions crown in Barbados on December 14.

The Frenchman was knocked out in the group stages after a penalty denied him victory over V8 Supercar champion Jamie Whincup.

Former British F1 driver David Coulthard won the event.

Cox signs on

ICE HOCKEY: Andy Cox has signed a two-way agreement for Oxford City Stars from Slough Jets.

Cox put pen to paper on December 18 and the deal allows him to make up to three appearances for another team who plays in a different division.

The signing helps Darren Elliott's current injury crisis with Ryan Bainborough, Mason Wild, Mike Whillock and Dax Hedges all ruled out of their upcoming games.

Barry feeling optimistic for the New Year

WANTAGE Town manager Daniel Barry says the Christmas period will be "interesting" for his side but is looking to turn performances into results come the New Year.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, the Freds were third from bottom in Division One South & West and on an eight-match winless run.

The Alfredians face Swindon Supermarine on Boxing Day, before hosting Evesham United on New Year's Day and travelling to league leaders Merthyr Town on January 3.

Barry says he is just focusing on getting through the month but wants to ensure performance levels do not drop.

"It is going to be an interesting period," he said.

"We have got a small squad and we're feeling it at the moment with key players carrying knocks.

"The key is going to be to get through the period, try and pick up points against teams around us and then try and kick on after Merthyr for a massive January.

"Come January I am confident we will move away from the bottom two."

Barnett scores dramatic 90th minute header to secure victory

LAST-GASP U'S BEAT SHAKERS

• Tyrone Barnett headed a 90th minute winner as Oxford United secured a 2-1 victory at home to Bury last Saturday (picture by Steve Daniels)

TYRONE Barnett headed a dramatic last minute winner in the final game of his loan deal to give Oxford United a 2-1 win over Bury last Saturday.

United dominated on the ball and in attack but found themselves behind on 63 minutes with Danny Mayor firing home.

However, a Craig Jones own goal put United on level terms with Bury just six minutes later.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

And the three points were sealed in nail-biting fashion in the 90th minute as Barnett stooped to head home debutant Wes Burns' cross.

The U's are now 17th in Sky Bet League Two, on a six-match unbeaten run, and were looking to secure an FA Cup third round tie with Premier League club Swansea City as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print on Tuesday.

Head coach Michael Appleton was delighted with his side's performance on Saturday and felt the three points was thoroughly deserved.

"I felt we were in control all the time," he said.

"First half we played ever so well, we passed the ball really well.

"In the second half they scored with their first shot at goal which is a bit disappointing.

"But I did say to the players at half time that we might have to take disappointment before we take our reward.

"I thought they reacted really well to it and obviously we scored the goal in the last minute but I would have been disappointed if anyone in the stadium didn't think we thoroughly deserved it."

Barnett now heads back to Sky Bet League One side Peterborough after a 93-day loan at United.

The 29-year-old netted six goals in 12 starts for the club and Appleton says he would like to bring the striker back to the Kassam Stadium in January.

He added: "We will see what happens but there will be other parties that will be interested in having him. We will certainly be a part of that queue."
